IF YOU HAVEN'T 'HERD'

AN EMOTIONAL ENDING

Shakir was almost never seen without his trademark smile flashing around Boise State. He was always open and honest about his commitment to his mental health and taking time away from the game despite his busy schedule to make sure he had balance in his life. One of his favorite ways to escape was his weekly outing to the bowling alley with his fiancé.

Though he never shys away from speaking on his mental health, he isn't one to show his emotional side. Leading up to his final game at Boise State, he acknowledged how emotional the day would be for him.

"This year has been so great, so amazing, positive vibes through the ups and downs, it's just been amazing. My happiness has trumped over everything else and that's why I smile every single day," Shakir said. "I definitely think you guys might see me cry for the first time this weekend. But then again, we'll see, my happiness might trump over that as well. I'd say I'm emotional about the right things. I try not to show that emotional side as much. I like to think of myself as a very happy, positive person. Like I've told you guys before, my mental health is very important to me so I do anything to stay on top of that."

PERSONAL

Son of Ramona Tuamoheloa-Shakir and Attiyyah Shakir. Has two brothers and one sister. Proposed to his fiancé, Saylor Bagnall, in March 2022.
